

Fig 1 Portrait of a lady, perhaps Catherine Howard (c.1520-1542), William Essex, 1850

Flickr \(Lisby\)

Fig 2 Katherine Howard, Richard Burchett (1815-1875) (circle of)

Flickr \(Lisby\)

Fig 3 Unknown woman, c.1532-43, Hans Holbein

Wikimedia Commons

Fig 4 Unknown woman engraved as Catherine Howard, 1797, Francesco Bartolozzi, 1797, NPG D20279

© National Portrait Gallery, London

<http://www.npg.org.uk/collections/search/use-this-image.php?mkey=mw81878>

<https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-nd/3.0/>

Fig 5 Katherine Howard, G. P. Harding, published 1854

Public domain (Agnes Strickland, Lives of the queens of England, (London 1854) III, plate follows p. 98).

Fig 6 Portrait of a young woman, c.1540-45, workshop of Hans Holbein

Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York

<https://creativecommons.org/publicdomain/zero/1.0/>

Fig 7 Unknown lady, probably a member of the Cromwell family, c.1540, Hans Holbein

Wikimedia Commons

Fig 8 Portrait of a lady, possibly Catherine Howard

Wikigallery.org

“This image (or other media file) is in the public domain because its copyright has expired. However - you may not use this image for commercial purposes and you may not alter the image or remove the WikiGallery watermark.”

Fig 9 Portrait of a woman called Princess Mary, Duchess of Suffolk, William Essex, 1844

Flickr \(Lisby\)

Fig 10 Unknown woman, formerly known as Catherine Howard, after Hans Holbein, late 17th century

Wikimedia Commons

Fig 11 Unknown lady, possibly lady Jane Grey, c. 1546, Levina Teerlinc

Yale Center for British Art

Photo: Yale Center for British Art

“This work of art is believed to be in the public domain or has no known copyright restrictions. As far as the Center is concerned, you may download and use the Center’s image(s) of works in the public domain for any purpose. You do not need to ask our permission or pay any fees to us to publish the image(s.)

If you can, please acknowledge the Yale Center for British Art with a photo credit—this helps spread the word about our resources.”

Fig 12 Katherine as the Queen of Sheba in stained glass window at King’s College Chapel, Cambridge

Flickr \(Lisby\)

Fig 13 Portrait miniature of Katherine Howard, c.1540, Hans Holbein

Flickr \(Lisby\)

Fig 14 Catherine Howard (?) 1646, Wenceslas Hollar

Flickr \(Lisby\)

Fig 15 Catherine Howard, by Cornelis Martinus Vermeulen, after Adriaen van der Werff, late 17th century, NPG D24185

© National Portrait Gallery, London

<http://www.npg.org.uk/collections/search/use-this-image.php?mkey=mw124777>

<https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-nd/3.0/>

Fig 16 Catherine Howard, Queen of K. Henry VIII, c.1743-52, Jacobus Houbraken

Wikimedia Commons

Fig 17 Catherine Howard, unknown artist, 17th century?

Flickr \(Lisby\)

Fig 18 Portrait of a lady, perhaps Katherine Howard c.1540, Hans Holbein

Flickr \(Lisby\)

Fig 19 Elizabeth of York, unknown artist

Flickr \(Lisby\)

Fig 20 Elizabeth of York, unknown artist

Flickr \(Lisby\)

Fig 21 Katherine of Aragon, unknown artist

Flickr \(Lisby\)

Fig 22 Katherine of Aragon, unknown artist

Flickr \(Lisby\)

Fig 23 Katherine of Aragon, unknown artist

Flickr \(Lisby\)

Fig 24 Anne Boleyn portrait medal, 1534

Flickr \(Lisby\)

Fig 25 Anne Boleyn 'The Moost Happi' Portrait Medal, by Lucy Churchill

Photo: Teri Fitzgerald

Fig 26 Jane Seymour, 1536, Hans Holbein, Kunsthistorisches Museum, Vienna

Wikimedia Commons

Fig 27 Jane Seymour, c.1540, studio of Hans Holbein. Mauritshuis, The Hague

Wikimedia Commons

Fig 28 Queen Katherine Parr, The Hastings Portrait, undated, unknown artist

Flickr \(Lisby\)

Fig 29 Queen Katherine Parr, The Glendon Hall Portrait, c.1545, attributed to Master John

Wikimedia Commons

Fig 30 Katherine Parr, late 16th century, unknown artist

Wikimedia Commons

Fig 31 Catherine Howard, T.H. Lacy, 1865

Public domain (Thomas Hailes Lacy, 1809-1873 Female costumes : historical, national and dramatic in 200 plates, London, 1865. pl. 13)